Attention MFBF Members!

The Massachusetts Farm Bureau as well as The American Farm Bureau are looking for members to be a part of Farm Bureau's Agricultural Contact Team (FBACT)

FBACT is the American Farm Bureau Federation's grassroots action network. FBACT members voice the concerns of agriculture nationwide to members of Congress, the White House and its administration.

FBACT members agree to respond to a maximum of four alerts per year (8-Congressional session).

FBACT alerts are initiated by AFBF and are distributed to FBACT members in all 50 states. FBACT alerts will be pertinent to all 50 states, so no regional issues are used. FBACT members respond to the alert. The contact with their member of Congress can be made by phone, fax or e-mail utilizing the FBACT site.

To help FB members maximize their time, stay abreast of the issues and remain connected with their elected Officials, the following information is accessible:

Northeast Farm Business Outlook for 2006 By Carol Sobson

First Pioneer encourages all progressive farm business people to budget and plan for the coming year. To assist in doing so, we offer the following perspective on economic outlook.

The U.S. economy is expected to experience another good year of growth during 2006. The first half in particular should be strong due to hurricane rebuilding efforts. Businesses are expected to expand payrolls as they've squeezed about as much productivity as possible out of current staffing levels. The housing market will continue to grow but off from the record pace of recent years, dampening consumer spending somewhat as the slowdown in asset appreciation is felt. The U.S. dollar, meanwhile, will likely weaken during the year -- increasing the attractiveness of U.S. products abroad while reducing foreign competition here at home.

As for farm inputs, bumper corn and soybean harvests in 2004 and 2005 will ensure adequate supply for the world market and keep U.S. prices lower. Continued strong demand and tight international supplies of crude oil will keep prices high on all petroleum and petroleum derivative products, including diesel, fertilizer, and plastics.

Some specifics based on the best information available to us at this time:

- → Avg. corn price down $0.21 = $1.85/bushel (range of $1.60-$2.00/bushel)
- → Avg. soybean price down $0.34 = $5.40/bushel

(range of $5.00-$5.70/bushel)

- → Avg. soybean meal price down $15 = $168/ton (range of $155-$180/ton)
- → Avg. price for dairy feed down 7.0-9.0%
- ★ Avg. crude oil price (West Texas Intermediate) up $9 for annual average of $65/barrel
- → Avg. gasoline (regular) price up $0.18 for annual average of $2.45/gallon
- → Avg. diesel price up $0.10 for annual average of $2.51/gallon
- → Avg. natural gas (residential) price up $0.63 for annual average of $13.36/mcf
- → Avg. fertilizer cost +10%
- → Avg. wages +3%
- → Avg. interest rates +0.5% over last year

News From Worcester County Farm Bureau:

On March 8, 2006, The WCFB board of Directors voted to apply for a Department of Agricultural Resources Farm Products Technical Assistance Grant. This Grant would allow WCFB to hire a Agritourism Consultant to come to Members' farms for an onsite visit with follow-up recommendations on how to increase Farm Revenues.

WCFB will coordinate the farm visits. Regular Worcester County Farm Bureau members will be able to sign up to have the consultant come to their farms in May or June 2006. The cost to the Farmer will be determined once the Grant is secured.

This will be a great chance for Farm Bureau members to discover some of the new opportunities that have allowed other farms in the state to grow, expand, and increase profitability.

Stay Tuned for Further Details!

Scholarship Opportunity!

Worcester County Farm Bureau President Jon Nourse announces that the County is accepting applications for the 2006-2007 college scholarship award.

Applicants need to be children of regular WCFB members and need to be accepted into natural resource, veterinary, animal science, forestry, and or other agricultural courses of study enrolled in either a 2 or 4 year program.

Applicants at any stage of their schooling (freshman or otherwise) will be considered.

The $500.00 scholarship is awarded every May and is renewable. For the application or for information, contact Jon Nourse at 508-366-2644 or jwnourse@aol.com.

Immigration Reform: What's Happening Now

Labor Advisory Committee Meeting in Dallas. Here is a brief update on what is happen-

Currently, there are 10-14 million illegal workers in the U.S. with 500,000 to 750,000 working in agriculture. At least half of all hired agriculture workers are illegal. Hundreds of thousands continue to cross each year. Most everyone recognizes the value of these workers as they account for about 10% of the U.S. workforce and they perform tasks that most U.S. workers will not perform.

Congress and the President have promised to deal with this situation on many levels, these including enforcement both at the border and within the U.S., a guest worker program to allow foreign workers to enter the U.S., and an adjustment of status policy to deal with illegal workers already here.

The problem is that efforts to date appear to be dealing only with the enforcement issue. We have all heard reports recently about farmers in Arizona and California not having enough help to harvest winter crops.

Recently, I attended the AFBF Recently, the U.S. House of Representatives passed legislation (H4437) which deals only with enforcement. Even though the House leaders said that they would follow up this bill with a guest worker program and adjustment of status, they seem unwilling to do so now. The U.S. Senate has set a deadline to pass legislation on this issue. As with the House, there are many ideas but not much consensus on guest workers and adjustment of status. The Senate President has set March 27th as the date by which the Senate must reach consensus on these issues. If they do not, it is very likely that the Senate will pass the same legislation as the House did. If the Senate does this, it is also likely that the President will sign it because it does beef up border security and enforce immigration

> The impact from this would not be good for US Agriculture. At least that is the general consensus. Although agriculture no longer employs the greatest percentage of illegal workers  $(\sim 10\%)$ , it has the most to lose

Your input is helpful as well, and your success could help many others, I encourage you to become interactive in helping others to find solutions and to prosper and succeed during the coming months. Watch our newsletter and the Farm Bureau websites for new and current information as it becomes available.

Now becomes an important time to become active and to follow the debate on timely issues. Immigration reform is a hot topic in Congress these days, with debate that ranges from protection from terrorists with increased border security to protecting American wages and jobs from inexpensive foreign or undocumented labor sources. Look around you, we as a nation have welcomed many into our country and through history many immigrant ethnic groups have done exactly as they do today: embrace the available jobs, get an education, assimilate into our country and build successful lives as Americans. have by estimates 10-14 million immigrants in this country living and working here without We have estimates of 500,000 to 750,000 working in agriculture. Contrast there are about 30,000 working under an H2A visa, and the recreation industry is confined by the 60,000 limit in the H2B program. These documented workers and the process to recruit them can not and will not fill the worker positions required to keep our country competitive and affordable for all that would live here. hard to imagine the effect a sudden loss of even a portion of the 10-14 million undocumented people living in our communities would have on our economy, our production and our national security. As debate continues we all must convey to our elected officials to refrain from going towards extremes and to view the situation with intent to resolve our immigration dilemma. have created an opportunity with in this world that makes us the envy of all people with less opportunity to provide for family needs. I do not believe we as a nation can afford to turn our backs to those that aspire to improve their own situation. must control our borders, establish and maintain the rules that allow immigrants to come and to join our nation's workforce, and we must find a means to correct our ineffective oversight of those that come for a visit and stay for a lifetime. We must not in the process forget the contributions that immigrants do each and everyday for us. We must not succumb to a mentality that states the answer to our labors needs is simply a higher standard of pay or benefits. We cannot punish our businesses that employ in many cases the only workforce to show up to a job posting, and we can not survive in the new world economy if laws and regulations drive basic labor cost upwards and beyond a cost of production that becomes noncompetitive in the marketplace.

Look around you in every community and in every place you shop, eat, and even work and you will find an immigrant or a child of an immigrant that comes to America for a better life. It does affect each and every one of us. It is our issue to find the right solution too.

(LABOR UPDATE Continued from page 4) proportionally. Conservative estimates place over 50% of hired agricultural workers as illegal. In addition the following are generally accepted impacts of this type of limited legislation. Up to one third of the U.S. fruit and vegetable sector will likely disappear. Between $5 billion and $9 billion in U.S. production would be lost to foreign producers. Net farm income for the rest of agriculture would decline by as much as $5 billion annually. Ag farm wages would rise from an average of $9.50 per hour to $14-$16 per hour without benefits.

An additional thought: The H-2a program is the only real guest worker program that currently exists. Only about 30,000 workers come to the U.S. using this program. High cost, threats from Legal Services, bureaucracy, and housing requirements are all reasons why the H-2a program is not more successful.

What is going to happen in the future? Your guess is as good as mine. But we will keep you posted.

Land Preservation—"By Farmers, For Farmers"

The Farm Bureau Agricultural Preservation Corporation believes in more than just Land Preservation. We believe first and foremost in Agricultural Preservation, and feel that if land is preserved properly, it can go a long way in keeping our agricultural heritage here in Massachusetts alive and vibrant. Help keep Massachusetts a wonderful place for our future generations to live and work by supporting us in our efforts to preserve agriculture and it's most valuable asset—farmland!

Please consider supporting Farm Bureau's Land Preservation Corporation with your donation. Any amount helps. Because the corporation is administered by Massachusetts Farm Bureau, 100% of your donation can go to capital purchases of either easements, or fee simple land. If you know of anyone considering donating land or easements on their land to a non-profit organization, please have them contact us. We are non profit organization and 100% of any donations are tax deductible. We consider all types of arrangements including life rights, lease back programs, trusts, and other such estate planning vehicles. Contact the Farm Bureau office for more information. (508)881-4766
